

We are currently seeking an intern for the spring semester and one for the summer semester. These are paid internships.

SUMMARY

American Quarter Horse Youth Association (AQHYA) and the American Quarter Horse Association Education Department seek to educate children of all ages about the American Quarter Horse through online activities and lessons, Junior Master Horseman (JMH), and the Youth Association events. Qualified candidates will be challenged to create new learning opportunities, maintain or enhance existing ones, develop marketing strategies for education programs, and develop relationships with professional horsemen, horsewomen, and area educators. This position assists with implementing AQHA's focus on education and youth. By the end of the internship, interns in this area will be able to communicate with varied audiences and to develop an idea from conception to finalization.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develop and/or update Youth/JMH/Hall of Fame and Association Education marketing material
- Help plan and coordinate special events that promote Youth/JMH/Hall of Fame and Association Education
- Assist in the maintenance of the Youth/JMH/Hall of Fame and Association Education internet presence including but not limited to all social networking
- Conduct field trips or other Hall of Fame and Association educational programs as needed
- Organize and maintain educational supplies and facilities
- Travel to AQHA or other important AQHYA events
- Help with planning and implementing of local Camp It Up! activities
- Consistent blogging about AQHYA activities and events

GOALS

- To maintain quality levels of educational experiences offered by AQHYA and the American Quarter Horse Hall of Fame
- To market horse-related content and activities to media, youth, members and general public

SUPPORTING ACTIVITIES

- Develop lesson plans for use online and in the classroom

Summer internship (Late May to Mid August)

Fall internship (Late August to Mid December)

Spring internship (January to Mid May)

All resume and cover letters should be submitted to jobs@aqha.org